Ідеологія комуністичної партії китаю в період політики реформ і відкритості: проблема визначення та методологія досліджень

В. О. Кіктенко

У статті досліджуються проблема визначення та методи вивчення ідеології Комуністичної партії Китаю в постмаоїстський період ... (обсяг анотації 270-300 слів).

Ключові слова: ідеологія, марксизм-ленінізм, “три представництва” (5-7 слів)

* It applies only to a publication and does not provide a free printed copy.

Ідеологія Комуністичної партії Китаю та різні контексти її розвитку постійно перебувають у центрі уваги істориків, політологів, філософів, лінгвістів, китаєзнавців, хоча найчастіше об'єктом дослідження є не сама ідеологія, а суміжні питання, що стосуються історії та сучасного розвитку Китайської Народної Республіки [Michalak-Pikulska 2002, 66] ...

FORMAT FOR REVIEWS OR CHRONICLE SECTION

Section 1. UDC, a title, full name of the author (co-authors) (transliteration), scientific degree, academic rank, affiliation, organization address, e-mail of all the authors or one author, abstract (100 words), keywords (5-7 words) in English.

Section 2. Title, the full name of the author (co-authors), the full text of a review or chronicle in the source language.

Section 3. Literature with Cyrillic citations or References (if the text has citations).

The editors kindly request to reduce a title (if possible) to 250 characters, including white spaces.

REQUIREMENTS FOR LITERATURE AND REFERENCES

All graphic files should be given separately from the text in the relevant format, such as *.jpg.

References are indicated in the square brackets within the text, as follows: the author's last name, year of publication (no comma before it) and, if necessary, pages, i.e. [Michalak-Pikulska 2002, 66]. Initials are provided after the last name only if the article refers to several authors with the same surname. If two or more works are referred to, they are presented in chronological order, separated by semicolons. If a reference is a collective monograph, encyclopedia, dictionary, etc., the incipit of the title is provided: [Manzil ... 2013]. Text references are at the end of the article.

The list of cited literature ordered alphabetically is given at the end of the article under the title LITERATURE. When drawing up the list of references, you should comply with the requirements of the National Standard of Ukraine DSTU 8302: 2015 “Information and documentation. Bibliographic reference. General provisions and rules of composition”. The titles of the cited works are drawn up as follows:

Кіктенко В.О. «Китайська мрія» як теорія нового етапу модернізації КНР. Східний світ. 2015. № 3. С. 106–114.

Brown K. The Communist Party of China and Ideology. China: An International Journal. 2012. Vol. 10. № 2. P. 52–68.

RULES FOR EXECUTING REFERENCES

References are listed individually, doubling the list of literature rendered in a source language according to the requirements of the SAC of Ukraine regardless of the availability of foreign sources. If the literature list doesn't have non-Latin reference, the author provides one list - References.

The editorial office recommends the following alternate of the structure of bibliographic citations in References (for references in Cyrillic and Oriental languages):

full name of the authors (transliteration);

article's title (transliteration)

source (transliteration);

output data with English indication of city, volume, issues, pages (publisher is transliterated). You should mark a source language at the end, e.g. (In Ukrainian).

Transliteration

Transliteration meets the standards BGN/PCGN (1965). Transliteration of Ukrainian sources from the list of literature is made using: <http://www.transliteration.com/transliteration/en/ukrainian/bgn-pcgn/> Insert Cyrillic, etc. text in the box and click “Convert”, then copy the transliterated text.

In order to transliterate the text from another language, see: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/romanisation-systems> (you can find the information about the transliteration from a particular language meeting BGN/PCGN) and search for the relevant converter and text translator for rendering one language into Cyrillic meeting BGN/PCGN.

References in our journal are executed following Harvard Style (BSI – British Standards Institution).

Materials from the following web-site are used: <http://www.nbuv.gov.ua/node/868>

The list is alphabetical.

References arrangement

The list of references is arranged alphabetically by author's name. If there is more than one reference in the list of the same author, they should be arranged in chronological order of publication. If the author has more than one publication in the list in one year, it is necessary to use 2000a, 2000b, etc.:

- ❖ two authors, separated by "and" and without commas;
- ❖ several authors are separated by commas, but the last surname must be connected with "and" without a comma.

Fundamental rules:

If there is more than one source of the same author in the list, they are sorted by date.

The title of a book or journal is always highlighted in italics.

Citations of publications, i. e. chapters from books, journal articles, are always given in quotation marks, starting with the first word.

The name of the publisher comes before the place of publication (as it would be in an address). Reductions of US states are written in capital letters.

Electronic sources are executed the same way as printed analogues, followed by "available at" and URL. URL should keep "http://", if the address doesn't include www. In addition, you have to mention the access date (accessed ...).

Use comma to separate elements.
